

Taking a Stand

The mission of a silent sentinel

HERE'S SOMETHING TO ADD TO YOUR ARSENAL of witnessing tools. A friend and supporter of the bookwork found a company providing newspaper stands to the general public. For less than $99 each plus shipping, you can purchase these stands from Steel City Corp in Ohio (phone: 330-792-7663 • Web: <http://scity.com/plastic-free-distribution-racks>). Our friend, Emile, buys these racks, then visits local stores and supermarkets and asks for permission to place a rack full of our books outside the store. Emile reports that each stand can easily be emptied of a couple of cases of books in a week. If you have time for this simple method of distribution, we encourage you to call Emile at (504) 237-9699, and he will share some encouraging stories with you that are sure to get you fired up. Emile is in central time USA.

Though we've endured a long, cold winter, spring will be here before we know it; make some plans now for seed-sowing. Get some of these racks, then call us and get some books to put in them. Contrary to the belief of some, physical books will always have a place in our world, not only in the parts that have no electricity, but also in the hands of those who simply like to see what there is left to read of the book — not always possible with ebooks.

While the earth remains, there appears to be no end of witnessing possibilities. Seedtime and harvest come and come again. Until our Lord returns, He will never cease giving ideas for witnessing.
