

"Fostering Good Things"

A Letter from a Supporter and Foster Parent

Sister Elmira,

Thank you for getting the thousand books to us. I also ordered 1,000 bows and clear bags with a cutout handle to hang on the door knobs in every home in our neighborhood.

The foster kids were so excited with the preparation, they helped to put the newly bought wagons together and decorate them. The older kids put in late night hours in preparing the door gifts that read "Holiday Blessing 2021" that was made by the other assisting Foster Mom.

These foster children knew little to nothing about Jesus until they came here. The children were so excited and full of energy (thank God). Bless their hearts, they delivered all 1,000 of the gifts. Although it was still daylight, when we returned back home they were glad to go to bed early. No complaints or whining, they all went to sleep.

The neighbors seemed to enjoy seeing the children run from door to door. Some were surprised to get something wonderful and they made it known. We had NO ugly remarks from the neighbors, but big Thank Yous and Merry Christmas.

"Happy and Blessed Birthday, Pastor Wheeling. Thank you for inspiring (me) us to do a better work for our LORD." –Linda W. Pastor Wheeling has been a Great, Big, Postive, Uplifting influence in my life. I have been listening to his sermons since 1986. I love learning and making sense of the Scriptures.

The letter we've shared above offers a perspective from families across America and beyond that might be told by so many parents—foster or otherwise—regarding getting their kids involved in missionary work. It's not necessary for us to cross oceans and land masses in order to reach people for our Lord. The field that needs work might be right there in your own city; your own town; your own street, maybe even among your own household. "Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already for harvest," said Jesus in John 4:35. He even said it in a way that needs no translation into modern English. In other words, Jesus' meaning is that you don't need a telescope to see what needs to be done. "Lift up your eyes" "Get your head out of your books; off your smart phone; away from the TV. Stop all your political fussing. Quit picking holes in the religion of others. All around you are people dying while they're standing; dying, not just for the price of tea and a slice, but for the lack of spiritual food."

As missionaries for our Lord we need a wisdom that is uncommon to man, a wisdom that only comes down from above. Learning and understanding of grand Biblical themes is alone insufficient to get ourselves and others through our battle with unseen agencies. For sure, a knowledge of the war is essential, but knowledge alone is not enough. We need the love of God, the peace of God, the humility of God, the wisdom of God. Let's just say it, we need the fruit of the Spirit to be of any real use in the hands of Heaven. We are encouraged by so many of the Bible writers to ASK God for the things we need. But not to ask for just cars and boats and refrigerators and bus fare, but (as Paul put it) to covet earnestly the best gifts (1 Cor. 12:31). The gifts of God are the ones that last, and love is clearly at the top of the list of things we'll need to make our words of any real effect for eternity. It's a simple thing: just ask
