

"Hold Fast Till I Come."

Let him hear what the Spirit saith

Following some of the darkest times in earth's history have come some of the greatest blessings from Heaven. Though the way ahead was not always clear, the Children of Israel bid farewell to the heathen land of Egypt and headed off into the desert. It would be many years before the people of God landed at the intended destination; but land they did, and the Lord blessed them there. Unfortunately, people being what they are, they allowed rebellion to rule. Their enemies stormed the land and took them captive to Babylon, where they served two kingdoms: Babylon and Persia. Dark times indeed! But God would not allow the Land of Israel to remain empty for long; the People of God were released and they returned home to rebuild and to once again be blessed by Him Who had chosen them and that piece of ground where they were to thrive.

The troubled People of God have never been at peace for long. That's how life is on our broken planet, full of people with broken minds and broken hearts, often intent on breaking others as they journey on. In living memory young men and women sacrificed their lives for the deliverance of the Jewish People from the prison camps of the Nazis, hell-bent on the final destruction of the Jewish race; but that was never going to be.

It's hard for us to understand how those historic releases must have felt. To have been so long imprisoned behind fences and walls, and to have been finally set free—sometimes by the hand of God, and sometimes by the hand of God through Gentiles. Oh, what unimaginable relief!

Just ahead of us lies the release of releases, that which follows the ultimate "War to End All Wars." The veil between Heaven and earth will finally be drawn back, the Devil exposed for what and who he truly is. Unspeakable cruelty inflicted upon the Children of God will finally come to a close, never to be endured again! One of the books we distribute, "America in Prophecy" (The Great Controversy), speaks of a time just before the final release, as a "season of distress and anguish" that "will require a faith that can endure weariness, delay, and hunger..." We feel it in our bones and in our hearts that we are swiftly approaching that time.

In the Second chapter of the Book of Revelation and verse 25, the counsel is given, "Hold fast till I come." Not "Do your best," or "Hold on as long as you can," but "Hold fast TILL I come." It's more of a command, laden with all the power necessary to fulfil the command. The struggle for most of humanity is not to hold on to the high ground ... but to hold on to God. Every wind of doctrine is blowing across the land at present; even the Devil sees the wisdom of scattering his seed like the leaves of autumn, "Seeking whom he may devour." This is the time for us to be busy ... busier than we have been.

Make no mistake, before the dawn of that golden morning is coming a terrible midnight, a moral depravity such as the world has not yet seen, darker than the midnight sky and emblazoned with less than a few stars. It's time to press close to the fold, lest the wolves attack us as we wander alone. We shall want to be prayerfully considering the Word of God as we seek those who are of another fold, perhaps of no fold whatsoever.

At the website signified above there are many free resources, papers to download, videos to watch and links to consider. We'll draw your attention to the new QR Code Business Card form of evangelism that is gaining popularity. Recently we sent thousands of these cards to the New Orleans Mardi Gras. People ate them up. Not only is the card easy to manage and to tuck away, but there is no limit to how many times the card may be scanned and passed on.

Consider us as you seek tools and resources to help you in your outreach. Let us help you. Put out a foot and see how the Lord might direct your way.
