

Time On Your Hands? Don't let it slip through your fingers.

A MOMENT IN TIME COMES but once in eternity. How we use that moment can have incredibly lasting consequences. We cannot delay time; pause time; stretch time; regain time; re-live time. In many varied forms time comes but once to us all then continues its march toward the future. In the human experience nothing stands still; weeds grow, hair grays, wrinkles deepen, bones age, children grow. When we are young we impatiently count the days to birthdays, vacations, family outings, and the weekend. It seems like time takes forever to pass; we sigh at the laziness of time. To a child, thoughts of a Kingdom to come seem very far away. As we get older, things change, albeit slowly, until one day we suddenly realize that ten years have slipped away almost unnoticed. We were busy finishing trade school, getting a job, finding a spouse, buying or building a home, starting a family, caring for aging parents.

Evangelistic endeavors have not always been on our front burner, in fact, at times there's barely been enough room on the back burners. This, of course, is not always the case; many Christian folk devote their entire lives to the sharing of the Good News of the work of Christ, and the only time that they wish would pass quickly is their sojourn here on earth; like prisoners in their cells, marking off the calendar looking forward to their day of release.

We know neither the day nor the hour of our Lord's return; we just pray for strength to endure the course, a course which seems to offer continuing distractions and obstacles. Like soldiers, we continually guard ourselves against the tactics of the enemy while seeking to set his captives free. But we're running out of time. Soon all the sand will have passed through the glass. If we're going to get busy, NOW is the time. Clear the stove and start rattling the pans that matter.

A glance at the daily news, both at home and abroad, tells us that "the time is at hand." Sometime soon the eternal day will break; until then we thank you for allowing us to unite with you in your time on earth;

Mission America II

MANY THOUSANDS OF PUBLICATIONS ARE ON their way to North Dakota. The response to the need in this relatively neglected state has been refreshing and books continue to go there. Mission America II is well under way and people are receiving their books on a daily basis. We encourage you to keep up the good work; your prayers and finances are going a long way.

"QUOTABLE"

"Time and tide wait for no man. But, unlike time, at least the tide returns."
