

It's Not My Job!?

Nonsense! You are indeed your Brother's keeper. ~Genesis 4:9

As we cast our eyes about the world in which we live, it is easy to see that the residents of Planet Earth have been lulled into a sleepy sense that there will be no end to the brokenness of our present reality. It's almost as if someone full of nefarious intentions is constantly inventing distractions for the human mind, offering to divert the attention and ease the pain brought into the world by the nagging presence of sin.

For those with more primal inclinations, bars and lounges offer every kind of intoxicating liquid.

The introvert may find distraction by constant "interaction" on social media, or by so-called binge-watching of television.

Though we might not think of pornography or violent video games as anesthetics for the mind, they both serve to encourage the individual to live out a life that might not be readily acceptable — or available — and both tend to deaden sensitivity to reality.

Should we mention the effect of sporting events on the human mind? What harm could possibly come from watching two teams of athletes throw or kick a ball around an arena? Football, basketball and baseball are most definitely a religion for many inhabitants of the planet as they defend their teams with a passion worthy of a far greater cause. Players and supporters often invoke the blessing of their respective deities before the games commence, blaming both the players and their deities should the final score disappoint.

Even many worthwhile pursuits are often engaged in at the expense of human beings suffering neglect or abuse. Being a good steward of earthly resources is a duty we owe to our Heavenly Father; but one can take this duty to an extreme where the saving of a soul is left entirely out of the equation. In the context of the words of Jesus, "A person is of more value than many sparrows"—or trees, or whales or many other endangered species. If your sport, hobby, journaling or game-playing takes more of your time than does the serving of your fellow travelers on this tiny rock, then it's seriously time to take stock.

The news media offers little help, offering just enough to keep us irritated at "the other side," or anxious about the latest "War, Pestilence, Famine or Earthquake." Without a doubt, more time is taken up studying the opinions and predictions of others, than in studying the Will and Counsel of God.

None of the above applies to you. Your priorities are straight. All your ducks are in all the right rows, and your relationship with Heaven is secure. Were this not true, it's doubtful that the pursuits of IBE would be of interest to you, and you clearly would find other activities in which to invest your support.

But you are surrounded by minds that are walking to the beat of a very different spirit. Much of humanity has neither the time nor inclination to consider the condition of the planet they will leave behind this side of eternity, let alone to consider their own eternal reality beyond the resurrection of the righteous. It is as much our responsibility to find ways to distract these minds from worthless earthly pursuits as it is to offer food and water to a starving baby bird, or a homeless, flea-bitten skinny kitten. Nothing along the lines of soul-saving is above or below your pay-grade; we were made for this. One day we will leave preaching and evangelism to the Heavenly history books—but not yet.

ThePerfectStormIsComing.org is the place you can go RIGHT NOW to find tools you can use and tools that can use you for the saving of souls—or at the very least, the sowing of seed.
